

M-BEES 2010

3rd Maastricht Behavioral and Experimental Economics Symposium

Theory and Experiments

Friday, 11 June 2010

Call for Papers

Keynote Speakers

B. Douglas Bernheim Stanford University

Yan Chen University of Michigan

Information

The broad topic of the Symposium is Theory and Experiments and centers around the question if and how economic experiments can inform economic theory and vice versa. The Symposium takes place on a single day and closes with a social dinner. There are two invited keynote speakers opening and closing the program with contributed paper sessions in between.

Paper Submission

Please email an extended abstract or, preferably, a paper in pdf-format by 12 April 2010 to MBEES-SBE@MaastrichtUniversity.nl Notification about the outcome of the selection process can be expected by 23 April 2010.

Website

www.fdewb.unimaas.nl/meteor-seminar-et/M-BEES-2010

Organizers

Arno Riedl
J. Philipp Reiss

